1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Krenzel (U. Pat. No. 6,655,396) or Rasmussen (U. S. Pat. No. 5,597,001) in view of Vincent (U. S. Pat. No. 4,882,792).

Re claim 1, Krenzel and Rasmussen are each cited disclosing in a open-air outdoor wash station for large objects, such as is used for periodic maintenance of transportation vehicles and washing of large animals, wherein said wash station includes a wash deck (18 in Krenzel and 38 in Rasmussen), a source of wash fluid (13 in Krenzel and 106 in Rasmussen) and means for channeling said wash fluid from said wash deck, wherein the improvement comprises:

A. A source of pressurized wash fluid connected through a fluid supply conduit, within a wash station; and

B. A actuator (pump drives) mechanically coupled to a waste stream control valve (39 in Krenzel and 58 in Rasmussen, "valve": any device for halting or controlling the flow of a liquid, gas, or other material through a passage, pipe, inlet, outlet, etc.

DICTIONARY.COM); and

C. A waste stream control valve, that differs from the claim only in the recitation of the pressure control valve and the actuator being hydraulic operated as claimed.

Vincent (col. 4, lines 4-31) is cited disclosing the hydraulic actuator as pressure reducing/controlling system as claimed. It therefore would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify the actuators (pump drives) of either Krenzel or Rasmussen, to be operated hydraulically as taught by Vincent, for the purpose of ensuring sufficient/constant washing fluid in the system. Re claims 2 and 4, Krenzel discloses the wash deck having a depression/compound contour. Re claim 3, Krenzel disclose the interceptor drain (40).

3. Claim 5 is allowed.

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. In Godshalk, Braun, Worth, Latimer, Thomas, Midkiff, Price, Damron et al., Petter et al. and Eastcott et al., note the cleaning means and control means.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to FRANKIE L. STINSON whose telephone number is (571) 272-1308. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F from 5:30 am to 2:00 pm and some Saturdays from approximately 5:30 am to 11:30 am.
